The tools of "civic rearmament" at school desired by Emmanuel Macron

Emmanuel Macron had planned to make youth the first axis of his "civic rearmament" of the nation, and the school undoubtedly occupied a large part of the press conference given by the President of the Republic, Tuesday January 16. "Each generation of French people must learn what the Republic means: its history, its rights, its duties, its language, its imagination, and this from childhood", argued the Head of State.

Does the fence break the house?

In the United States, where it was invented in 1924 (by the architect Frank Lloyd Wright with his Ennis House, in Los Angeles), the concrete or terracotta screen brick is called breeze block or screen block. Which leaves no doubt about its primary quality: filtering the air and the sun. Very popular during the 1950s and 1960s
